TENSE FEELING DIES OUT

Bartlesville Officers Do Not Anticipate Trouble From Action by Mob

BARTLESVILLE, Dec. 26.—(Tex. Parks, alleged to have been a party on the band of five men who were charged with having criminally assaulted Mrs. Stanley E. Vogler of Tulsa, three miles south of Ramona Sunday night, after her husband had been beaten into insensibility, died tonight at 9 o'clock in the county memorial hospital from gunshot wounds said to have been inflicted by Charles Sears, special officer at Ramona.

Sears was released this afternoon on $10,000 bond on a charge of criminal assault. Parks is said to have made a dying statement that Sears shot him without warning.

Grew Out of Feud.
Ramona citizens claim that there is an old feud between certain factions in the lower end of the county, growing out of this feeling, Sears was deputized by the mayor of Ramona following the alleged assault when an attempt was being made to arrest the members of the party.

According to county officers the charge against Sears will be changed to murder.

Feeling in Ramona, which was high for several hours, is said to have died down. Two men, Merle Wrono and Fair Garner, are in the county jail on charges of first degree murder. A search is being made for two other men who are alleged to have been in the party.

BARTLESVILLE, Dec. 26.—As the result of a Christmas eve party on Monday, two others are prisoners in the county jail awaiting trial on charges of assaulting a young woman and the officers are looking for two others who are said to have been implicated in the crime. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vogler of Tulsa are in this city under the care of a physician as a result of the assault which took place on the outskirts of Ramona late Sunday night. Rex Parks is dying in the hospital here and Charles Sears, special officer at Ramona, is being held in the county jail in connection with shooting Parks. Merle Wrono and Fair Garner, both of Ramona, are prisoners in the county jail charged with attacking the Tulsa couple, beating Mr. Vogler over the head with a gun until he was unconscious and then assaulting his wife. The officers are searching for two men, one by the name of Popojay, who are charged with taking part in the attack on the Voglers. Mrs. Vogler has made a statement to the officers stating that she was attacked by Fair Garner while Parks, Wrono, Popojay and the fifth man in the party held her. Mr. Barker charged that Garner is the one who struck him over the head with a gun, knocking him unconscious. Parks has made a deathbed statement in which he claims that Sears shot him without warning. Other officers say that Sears shot Parks when the latter resisted arrest.

Find Skeleton of Arkansas Woman
In Badger Hills

Certain Body Is That of Wife of George Farrell, Who Disappeared Last Fall

SALLISAW, Dec. 26.—The headless skeleton of a woman, believed by officers to be that of Mrs. George Farrell of Fort Smith, Ark., who disappeared here on October 25 was found in the wooded section of Badger mountain, four miles north of here, today.

Mrs. Farrell and her husband joined a carnival company here last October. On October 25 she disappeared from her room in a hotel, leaving most of her personal effects.

Prior to the woman's disappearance, her husband dropped out of sight. Since then, however, he has been seen on several occasions making inquiries about his wife, according to Sheriff C. N. Gay. His present whereabouts is unknown to officers.

LESLIE DOYLE
DIES AT HOME

President of City Park Board Succumbs Tuesday Morning

ILLNESS WAS SHORT

Fatal Sickness of Pioneer Tulsan Started Last Friday

Leslie L. Doyle, general agent for the Guardian Life Insurance company, president of the city park board, charter member of the Kiwanis club, active Mason and churchman, died at his home, 1415 South Boston avenue, about 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. Had he lived until December 30 he would have been 50 years old. Death was caused by pneumonia of the lungs.

Besides the widow, the immediate relatives who mourn his death are a boy, Vennard, age 16; two girls, Alice and Frances, age 11; a brother, Edward C. Doyle of Chicago, and two half sisters, Mrs. John Hamtgen and Mrs. Walker Powell, also of Chicago.

Funeral services will be conducted from Trinity Episcopal church, Fifth and Cincinnati, at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, in charge of Rev. Rolfe Pomeroy Crum after which the remains will be taken in charge by the Masons and interred with the impressive Masonic ceremonies in Rose Hill cemetery.

Born in Kentucky.
Doyle was born in Smithfield, Ky., December 30, 1872. His boyhood years were spent on the farm of his parents. When 19 years old he went to Chicago and entered on a business career with his brothers-in-law. Later he was in business in Sioux City, Iowa, Cairo, Ill., and St. Louis. In 1914 he was married in 1925 to Miss Josephine Vennard. Twelve years ago, after several years in Little Rock, Ark., the family moved to Tulsa. Arthur Baker has been Doyle's business associate for the past nine years. Their office is in the Security building.

Doyle became affiliated with Trinity Episcopal church immediately after he moved to Tulsa, and was one of the most active and influential members. For three years he was a member of the vestry, and at the time of his death was a member of the board of stewards and of the ushering and visiting committees. In 1916 he was worshipful master of Delta lodge No. 425, A. F. & A. M. He held the position of secretary of Trinity commandery, Knights Templar, and held membership in the B. P. O. Elks.

Until the latter part of last week Doyle apparently was in excellent health.

RETIRED MAYOR
HELLED BY POLICE
FOR MER ROUGE

Doctor Arrested at Baltimore in Connection With Kidnaping

BLAMELESS, HE SAYS

Was Known as "Reform Mayor" Until Assassins' Threats Drove Him to North

GUARDS STILL ON DUTY

Evidence Against Men Who Used Dynamite Which Loosened Bodies Being Sought

BASTROP, La., Dec. 26.—The second arrest in connection with the Morehouse kidnaping of last August occurred late today when Dr. H. M. McKinn, until a few months ago mayor of Mer Rouge, was taken into custody at Baltimore upon instructions of Governor Parker, who charged him with murder.

The physician was taking a postgraduate course at Johns Hopkins university.

The former mayor is expected to reach here within a few days to join a former deputy sheriff who is now being held on a similar charge in the Bastrop jail.

Seek Dynamite Evidence.
While the arrest was being made a detachment of national guard was reconnoitering along Lake La Fourche for evidence to connect the arrest of dynamiters responsible for the blasting at a ferry landing last week when the bodies of two men, believed to have been tortured and murdered by masked and robed men, were blown from the bottom of the lake.

The company was also to act as a body guard for the sheriff who was to make arrests in the event his suspicions justified them.

During the day Adjutant General Toombs, suddenly called back from Washington by the governor, arrived in Morehouse to direct the operations of the three companies of state troops encamped here and at Mer Rouge.

It was persistently reported that all preparations had been made to call out two additional state companies if necessary.

Governor Fears Bloodshed.
Soldiers are on guard duty at the jail here and encamped in the heart of Mer Rouge where the situation is such that the governor does not want to let the townspeople to themselves. In the fear there will be bloodshed because of the friction among them following the August event. Many of the populace are armed.

The military was also at the disposal of the civil authorities to take in custody members of the hooded mob who are known to the state, according to department of justice men.

Attorney-General Cocco yesterday announced that at least six or seven more arrests would be made before the open hearing in connection with the case which has been set for January 5 here.

It is reported the number of arrests is being increased in the event the identities of the dynamiters are established. Federal agents declare they have the name of the ring leader and his arrest is imminent.

Mckinn's Arrest a Surprise.
Attorney-General Cocco was expected to arrive at New Orleans tomorrow in preparation for the conference there Thursday at which time plans for the hearing will be outlined and the report of the coroner's jury that conducted the inquest over the headless bodies of W. A. Doyle and Thomas Richards will be discussed.

Citizens tonight discussed the arrest of two of their former law officials. The arrest of the man who had been the mayor of Mer Rouge where he was a practicing physician. His friends induced him to make the race for mayor and during his term he was furiously upheld by the law and attempted to rid the community of moonshiners and other law breakers, it was said.

On August 2 he was charged with firing two loads of shot into his moving automobile as he was answering a sick call. He later received a death sentence for the event led to the tragedy of the 24th. In the theory of the state.

T. J. Burnett, arrested last Saturday, is charged with conspiring with military surveillance. Today he grew sullen and restless and repeatedly gripped the iron bars in which he is inclosed. His battery of attorneys spent several hours with him.

Four Murders Since May.
It was recalled here tonight that several persons had volunteered blood, but no blood had been found yet that matched that of the patient to allow transfusion.

An appeal to Tulsans to save this man's life was made at the hospital last night. Anyone willing to give blood should communicate with the hospital immediately.

Scientists in Convention
Affirm Belief in Value of Organic Evolution Research

Evidence of Evolution Not 'Guess Work,' Association Decides; Theory Is Called One of Most Potent Influences for Good in All Human Experience

By the Associated Press.
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 26.—A resolution affirming that "no scientific generalization is more strongly supported by thoroughly tested evidence than is that of organic evolution," was adopted today by the council of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The resolution expressed the conviction that any legislation attempting to limit the teaching of the doctrine of evolution would be "a profound mistake."

It cited an attempt in several states to prohibit the teaching of evolution in the public schools and the wide publicity given to assertions that the theory of evolution was a mere guess which leading scientists were abandoning. It called attention to the fact that the organization had a membership of more than 11,000 persons, including the American authorities in all branches of science.

"There is no ground whatever," the resolution said, speaking of the scientific evidences of the evolution of plants and animals and man, "for the assertion that these evidences constitute a 'mere guess.'"

It affirms that the evidences in favor of the evolution of man are "sufficient to convince every scientist of note in the world," that the theory of evolution is "one of the most potent of the great influences for good that have thus far entered into human experience," and that to limit its teachings "could not fail to injure and retard the advancement of knowledge and of human welfare by denying the freedom of teaching and inquiry which is essential to all progress."

The resolution was drafted by a committee consisting of Edwin Grant Conklin of Princeton university, chairman; Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the board of trustees of the American Museum of Natural History, and Charles B. Davenport, director of the Cold Spring Harbor station of Carnegie institute. The council consists of the president of the American association, the permanent secretary, general secretary and treasurer; the vice presidents and secretaries of the various sections, representatives of each of the forty or more affiliated societies and eight elected members.

The meeting of the seventy-sixth annual meeting here at the joint invitation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Harvard university. Every branch of science is represented among the 3,000 delegates to the meeting.

PARKINSON MAY ASSIST IN AUDIT

State School Examiner Invited to Attend School Meeting

CRITICISM IS FLAYED

"Disgruntled Persons" Blamed for School Board Squabble Here

W. A. Parkinson, state examiner, is to be invited to come to Tulsa to discuss with the school board the handling of the proposed school audit. The examiner will be asked to attend the next meeting of the members of the board.

Decision to this effect was made yesterday at the weekly meeting of the board following the motion made by Ora E. Upp and seconded by Dr. J. M. Temples. The meeting was possibly held at the regular meeting day next week.

Called this week, if members now out of the city return in time to attend a special meeting.

Condemnation of the "practice of irresponsible, unfair and underhanded criticism of public officials" by persons who are disgruntled because of "failure to obtain the public offices or special privileges they have sought or by those who seek to secure themselves and keep their names before the public at the expense of good men," was expressed in a letter from the Tulsa chapter of the American Association of Engineers to the school board and read at the meeting yesterday. The letter, signed by L. J. F. Rooney, president of the Tulsa chapter, referred to the "unpleasant public gathering" of last week, which it said was apparently intended to cast aspersions upon the integrity and ability of the members of the board of education.

It stated further that it believed that it was the duty of all citizens to cooperate in fairness and helpfulness with the members of the board who were serving the community to the best of their ability.

A letter from Dr. J. M. Jordan, president of Tulsa university, was also read, in which he deplored the "unpleasant gathering" and generally ratified.

The German officials said they were hopeful that President Harding and Secretary Hughes would consent to act, although they had received no official information as to the manner in which the suggestion is being received in Washington.

The four powers in the pact would be Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany.

Wife Shoots Husband
SMITH CENTER, Kan., Dec. 26.—Richard Brommer, 32, who lived at Kensington, near here, is dead today, an alleged victim of his wife's deadly revolver aim. When Brommer started to leave home late yesterday, he refused to tell Mrs. Brommer where he was going. It is said, she drew a pistol and fired, one of the bullets penetrating his body. Authorities arrested Mrs. Brommer.

TIRED OF FLIGHT,
CHEROKEE COUNTY
BANDIT GIVES UP

William Price Confesses He and Brothers Held Up Hulbert Bank

2 KILLED AT EUREKA

Shot Down When Citizens Answered Alarm, so Price Decides He'll Surrender

CAME OF GOOD FAMILY

Parents of Prices Respected in Sequoyah County Where Father Was a Pioneer

RICHMOND, Cal., Dec. 26.—A man who said he is William T. Price, surrendered to the police here today and said he was wanted for the robbery of the Bank of Hulbert, Cherokee county, Oklahoma. He said his brother Charles and a third man obtained $3,000 in the robbery.

The sheriff of Cherokee county notified the police to hold Price as there was a reward for his arrest. Price, the police said, confessed his brothers, Charles and George, were killed attempting to rob a bank at Eureka Springs, Ark. Price said he has been driving an automobile bus at Santa Paula, Cal., until he arrived here recently.

Price told how he and his two brothers and another man whose name he refused to divulge, had robbed a bank at Hulbert, Okla., of more than $3,000. He came west. "Then I heard my brothers had been killed in an attempted holdup last month at Eureka Springs, Ark," he sobbed. "I have been under a deep, eat or even think properly since then. Every day my conscience smote me worse. I finally decided to give myself up so that I could pay the penalty and then go straight afterwards."

By the Associated Press.
TALLEGUAH, Dec. 26.—Sheriff Charles H. Jones tonight for a telegram he received last night stating that William T. Price is in jail here and confessed to the robbery of the First National bank at Hulbert, this county, January 20 last.

A telegram from Chief of Police W. H. Woods to the sheriff announced that Price surrendered here yesterday morning, stating that he had tried of remaining a fugitive since his two brothers, Charles and George Price had been killed last summer in a raid on the First National bank of Eureka Springs, Ark.

The telegram further stated that Price confessed his brother Charles and a third man, whose identity Sheriff Hultbert is keeping secret, robbed the Hulbert bank of more than $3,000.

The Hulbert holdup was followed six days later by a raid on the Farmers State bank at Park Hill, also in this county. Approximately $1,000 was obtained. Buster Curless, a young barber of Braggs, Muskogee county, Charles White, a youth of Salina, and Frank Walker, justice of the peace of Barber, this county, are now serving sentences in the penitentiary for the Park Hill holdup. Curless and White confessed and told the authorities that Walker planned the robbery.

Walker, according to the peace authorities, has long been identified as the genius of a large gang of bank bandits who for years found a rendezvous in the Cookson house, the Cherokee country. Although he had been tried several times for bank robbery, he had always been successful in being acquitted until his Talleguah trial.

Another Delinquent Time.
Prices deserted from the army, according to Sheriff C. N. Gay of Sequoyah county. A brother, Reese, is now serving a term in the state penitentiary.

Referee Finds J. W. Burns Guilty; Dismiss Lillard Charges

By the Associated Press State Wire.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 26.—Recommendations that charges against Ross N. Lillard of Oklahoma City be dismissed and that J. W. Burns of Ardmore be disbarred from the practice of law in Oklahoma are made in the report of Referee Robert J. Hay, appointed by the state supreme court to hear disbarment proceedings against the two attorneys. The supreme court will review the findings of the referee and take final action.

Charges of unethical practices were brought against the two lawyers by J. Emmet Buckley of Ardmore, attorney for the state supreme court to hear disbarment proceedings against the two attorneys. The supreme court will review the findings of the referee and take final action.

Charges that Lillard used his office as state senator to secure pardons and paroles and that he engaged in corrupt practices in the police courts of Oklahoma, Okla., the referee's report said, were not sustained by the evidence.

The report sustained in several instances charges that Burns had wrongfully appropriated money of his clients.

The charges against Ross N. Lillard are not sustained by fact and should be dismissed," the report says.

TURKS PROTEST
ARMENIAN PLAN

Refuse to Attend Committee Meeting on National Home

ALLIES HEAR ENVOYS

Base Objections on Ground Armenians Are Not Independent People

By the Associated Press.
LAUSANNE, Dec. 26.—Armenia was the storm center of the peace conference today. The Turks refused to attend a meeting of the subcommittee which had arranged for the establishment of a national home in Turkey and both Ismet Pasha and Riza Nur Bey sent strong worded communications to the conference protesting against the decision to allow the Armenians to state their case.

They declared that if the Armenians, who had no official standing and represented no independent government, were heard by the conference, there was no reason why the Egyptians or the Irish should not be allowed to present their demands.

The so-called irregular Egyptian delegation has been waiting in Lausanne for more than a month for permission to be heard by the conference and voice a demand for the independence of Egypt and complete withdrawal of the British army.

In consequence of the Turkish protest the official meeting of the subcommittee was postponed and the representatives of the inviting powers, Great Britain, France and Italy, sitting alone, listened to the Armenian spokesman, who suggested that a home be established in the northern Vilayets of Turkey which should include historic Mount Ararat or a section in Cilicia.

It was impossible, he declared, for the proposed Armenian home to be made up of the republic of Erzurum, which had been taken over by the Moscow soviets. The Armenians would willingly accept the independence of the republic of Armenia, but they would not accept the dominions with England. In conclusion he asked for exemption from military service for the Armenians and urged maintenance of the orthodox patriarch in Constantinople.

The entire delegates took the Armenian petition under advisement, as they did also petitions from the Bulgarians and the ancient people known as the Assyro-Chaldeans.

Arrest Suspect K. C. Robbers.
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 26.—Arrest of two men and two women at a local hotel tonight led to the seizure by the police of $3,400 believed to be the loot of a robbery of the foot obtained December 12 by highwaymen who held up and robbed a messenger of the Drovers National bank of Kansas City, Mo., and escaped after a gun battle in which one man was shot.

WISCONSIN MAN IS CHARGED WITH GIGANTIC SWINDLE

As Santa Claus, Gave Poor of Madison $30,000; Now Under Indictment

HELD ON 31 COUNTS

Half Million in Stock Turned Over to Him in 1921 When Company Went Broke

SAY HE TOOK ALL FUNDS

Government Accuses Him of Defrauding Hundreds of Small Investors

By the Associated Press.
MADISON, Wis., Dec. 26.—Victor H. Arnold, former president of the bankrupt Madison Bond company, who one year ago posed as a beneficiary of Santa Claus to Madison's needy, was arrested today in Bayside, N. Y., charged with using the United States mails to defraud hundreds of small investors of their savings. His arrest was made on an indictment returned Wednesday by the federal grand jury for the eastern district of Wisconsin.

The sensational ventures of Arnold, including an expenditure last year of $30,000 to afford a Christmas of plenty to the poor of this city, and various flights into the field of real-estate teaching, were climaxed by his indictment and arrest.

Thirty-one counts, alleging three fraudulent schemes for selling securities, are included in the grand jury charges which will bring Arnold back to Madison to face his former clients. On one of these schemes alone, the indictment says $615,000 was realized.

Give Personal Note.
In 1921 Arnold broke into print when he charged officials of the bond company with embezzlement of its funds. At that time he went before the stockholders of the company, in a special meeting, declared that dishonesty had placed affairs of the concern in a critical condition, and asked that a stockholder be named to him with his personal note, running for five years, as security. Stock worth $512,000 is alleged to have been transferred to Arnold, who thus obtained control of the company. Here the charges of dishonesty against company officials broke down.

Time came around Arnold placed unlimited credit with the stores of Madison and asked all of the city's needy to go to the stores, buy what food they needed, purchase two tons of coal and have the bill charged to him. This venture is said to have cost $30,000.

Following his Christmas enterprise, the bond company purchased a local church, turned it into an office building and set out selling securities on a large scale. At this time, also, Arnold hired a local church and started to give lectures on Christianity in business, telling how the fundamental teachings of the Bible should be applied to business.

Tries New Scheme.
In March, 1922, he tried to put into effect a scheme which resorted first to bankruptcy proceedings against his company and now in the indictment. By this plan, the indictment charges, Arnold sought to defraud all of the owners of outstanding collateral bonds sold by his company, out of their holdings by agreeing to purchase them in return for his note.

At this point Marshall Cowles, commissioner of banking for Wisconsin, intervened and advised holders of the bonds to investigate before accepting Arnold's proposals. He appointed a committee to look into the affairs. Bankruptcy followed.

Arnold took his personal note, after failure of his company, at his New York home. He recently wrote a local friend saying that he intended to return to Madison, enter business again and repay his creditors. He said that in the meantime the creditors should pray and put their faith in him.

Investors of the Madison Bond company report that the man has lived lavishly, maintaining several automobiles and servants.

MAKE ARREST IN FRAUD CASE
Stock Salesman and His Friend Wanted on New York Charge.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 26.—A federal fugitive warrant charging use of the mails in a scheme to defraud in New York was issued late today against William L. Cunningham, a stock salesman, under arrest here. Cunningham remained in jail when he failed to furnish bond fixed at $5,000. Police declared he announced his intention of waiving extradition.

Cunningham and Frank H. Carter, an English valet employed by Austin Howard Montgomery, who is said to be wanted in Baltimore and New York for questioning in connection with the promotion of the Community Finance company, were taken into custody Christmas afternoon by postal inspectors.
